into dreamland with a stiff uppercut after she had severely punished Miss Havers in the early part of the seventh.

The two had fiddled through the early rounds, feeling each other out and sparring for points. But at the beginning of the seventh round the Grand Rapids girl opened un a notch and let loose a volley of straight rights and left which caught the Flint challenger on the eyes. Miss slavers's right eye was closed. Then she set sull and began to fluil the air with set still and began to fluil the air with blows and the uppercut went home. Miss Williams stayed down the ten seconds and was duly counted out.

Friends of the winner plicked her up on their shoulders and decorated her with the club colors, pink and white, and have sent to Chicago for a bronze medal, which they say will be emblematic of the girls boxing championship of the state.

MATTY BALDWIN WILL ARRIVE TODAY

Matty Baidwin's delay in getting here for his ten-round borting contest with Pighting Dick Hyland at Saltair Monday evening is explained in the following telegram received by Promoter Harry Heagren last night:

Pueblo, Colo., April 25, 1912.

Will arrive in Salt Lake 10:55 p. m. Saturday. Stopped off here for a day with Baidwin to beak up long trip and to give him a chance to reat. Baidwin in great condition and ready to do his best. Leave here tonight. (Signed)

ALEC A McLean is one of the shrewdest managers in the Salt game and he probably figured that the ride straight through from New Orleans to Salt Lake might have a bac effect on Baidwin. Since the first of the year Baidwin has engaged in nind hard fights.

INTERNATIONAL FIGHT

English Boxer Fails to Gain Advantage Any Time During Entire Battle.

By International News Service, NEW YORK, April 26.—Packey McFarand of Chicago made a show of Matt Wells, the lightweight champion of England, at Madison Square Garden tonight in the first fight of international imporday when great little Terry McGovern knocked Peddlar Palmer kicking at Tuck-revenge on Washington today. Irishman ripped and stabbed and cut the British champion, opening old wounds about his face and head and making new ones, until every time McFarland's blood and water-seaked gloves landed the gore flew in clots, and the English-man was red from his trunks to his eye-

It was the rapier against the bludgeon, and the bludgeon never had a chance. McFarland made the stodyy Briton foolish as he evaded his rushes and played a rataplan against Wells's face with right and left hands. McFarland himself was soon smeared with the Englishman's blood, and Sam Austin, the referee, had his hands and shirt dyed a crimson hue as he plunged in between the fighters to split them out of clinches. Ten thousand people saw the fight.

PACKEY MAKES WELLS Cooley Colts Run Well In Mud, Winning 11 to 5

Helena Team Sadly Handicapped by Slippery Grounds and by Salt Lake Bunching Hits

Weather forecast: Rain Saturday, fair Sunday. Ball game today at 3:30 o'clock, Cooley park. Battery for Helena: Mears and Baker. Battery for Salt Lake: Jensen and Weaver.

excellent mud-runners yesterday they trounced Blub Irby's Helena bunch, 11 to 5. The Montana delegates hit Morgan every and then, but they could not bunch beir hits, whereas Salt Lake was forune's favorite in that respect.

Buck Weaver got a hit by throwing his at at a wild one and sprinting down to first in quick time. Shortly afterward first in quick time. Shortly afterward Buck committed the unpardonable offense of making a bad throw—that is, it would have been unpardonable if the ball had not been so slippery that none of the players could heave it accurately. Errors chalked up against several of the Helena boys might have been made by a big leaguer playing on such a muddy field. Nevertheless, the game contained a lot of hitting and running, and the continuous action seemed to please the fans. The grounds were drying out fast and ought to be in fine shape today.
